

Can I Copy This?

Sure. Feel free to copy it, edit it, amend it, use it however you find helpful. I have two requests: (1) If you use significant chunks of my text in any other context, please be sure to site me as the author. A footnote or other similar acknowledgement will be fine—something like, “Thanks to the Rev. Dr. J. Barrington Bates for this quotation.” (2) Regardless of whether you quote me, and even if you hate everything I’ve written and are inspired to write your own tome, I’d appreciate hearing from you. I always enjoy a bit of cyber conversation, so please let me know you saw this and to what extent you appreciate it. You can address electronic mail to barriebates@yahoo.com.
